

CASIO FZ SOUND DISKS FL 1-6, 13

There is a group of 142 disks for the Casio FZ-1 which is sometimes incorrectly referred to as the factory library, etc, but these are actually from the Casio Users Group. The FZ-1 sounds found here are from the official Casio FZ-1 sample library released in 1987 on HD floppy disks and have previously never been found on the internet for download. When the FZ-1 was introduced there were initially 6 volumes covering the typical acoustic instrument sounds. Each volume contained 5 disks. When the FZ-10 and FZ-20 were introduced later, the library was expanded to 14 volumes, including better strings, brass and saxes, as well as sound effects, japanese sounds, pipe organ and harp. These are very rare and only volume 13, saxophones, is present here.
